

ECOTECH SUMMER OUTING 2013

JM ECOTECH basked in the heat of the sun as the company flew to Bohol to celebrate the summer. From May 24 to 26, 2013, the company explored the naturally and culturally diverse island situated in the central region of the Visayas.

On the first day, the company went on a day tour from the capital city of Tagbilaran to the Baclayon Church, one of the oldest churches in the Philippines, then to the sanctuary of Prony, the largest python in captivity. From there, the company drove to Loboc where all went down the Loboc River cruise while having a hearty lunch and being entertained by the locals with music and dance. After that the company went through the Manmade Forest then up to the viewing deck to see the world-renowned Chocolate Hills. Then they went to the the Butterfly Conservation Center and the Tarsier Reserve to view the endemic fauna of the province. The next day was filled with excitement as the company went to Panglao to go dolphin watching then to Balicasag Island to spend the rest of the day swimming, snorkeling and playing sports.
